The Opening to a Research Paper Exercise

Using the text given to you, put together a first paragraph from the four sentences given to you. Order them as you think fit. When you get the order set, tape or glue your group’s ideas in place.

We will then go over your work, so be ready to talk to the whole group about the choices you made and what guided your work with this opening.