Reading “Online Monitoring: A Threat to Employee Privacy in the Wired Workplace”

Get into groups of three, and come up with three things the author did well, and three questions you have about the paper. Also, be ready, with the whole class to talk about the four questions below:

1. What seemed to be the author’s take on online monitoring by businesses of employees? How would you state it in your own words?
2. Since there weren’t subheadings, how did the author guide you through the piece? What organizational structure did the author seem to use?
3. What did you notice about the tone? How do you think that this tone might be, or might not be indicative, of papers written in the liberal arts?
4. What is different between this paper and the piece we read for Tuesday’s class?