

Intro to Key Concepts Group Work

Step One

Take about ten minutes and respond to this prompt: What, from the reading, is a key idea about WAC or “the writing process” that you see as having an effect on how you might go about working, in some way, with students? What does a given key idea mean to you as a future educator, parent, or student?

Step Two

Next, get into groups of three and, in five minutes, come up with a key pedagogical point that you think Bazerman et al or Maxwell makes about writing and its instruction. Write it down on the overhead provided, and be ready to talk about your response.
