Freire and What He Means
A Two-step Writing

Step One
Take five or so minutes and write down, in about three sentences what you think “Pedagogy of the Oppressed” was about. Write a paraphrase.

Step Two
Then take five more minutes and write down the questions you have about “Pedagogy of the Oppressed”—writer either literal to the substantive questions. (Literal being, “What does Freire mean by saying that ‘education is suffering from narration sickness’”? Substantive being, “When and where would it be appropriate to having teachers teach in the “banking model”?”)
