Task
Complete a research project that investigates your university peers in regards to their tastes in popular music. Write a research report presenting the results of this investigation. This assignment includes several tasks:

1. Formulating a research question to guide your investigation and doing library research.
2. Forming survey questions for the investigation of at least 10 questions.
4. Creating 1-2 graphs or charts representing results of the survey and investigation.
5. Writing a research report that includes the following sections:

- Abstract – brief (1-paragraph), concise description of the study, methods, and results.
- Introduction – library research, background information, purpose of the study, and expected results.
- Methods – description of the method, materials, design, and participants of the study.
- Results – description of the results of the investigation. Include graphics or charts here.
- Discussion – analysis of the results, their meaning, and future implications of the study.

Rhetorical Context (Your Audience and Purpose)
The audience for this research report is your peers at UCSB and anyone who would be interested in knowing about how this group of people develops its musical tastes or understands itself in relation to those tastes (other researchers, parents, etc.).
