Evaluation Criteria for Presentations

Individual Criteria: 80% of the Grade

A good presenter will:

• Make eye contact and project his or her voice.
  Points: _____/10

• Use clear and precise speaking and diction
  Points: _____/10

• Prove that he or she has a thorough knowledge of the subject
  Points: _____/10

• Be organized and not go off on tangents
  Points: _____/10

• Be aware of the audience and engage them
  Points: _____/10

• Edit his or her media for the presentation—and have a plan B for media
  Points: _____/10

• An good presenter’s grammar will,
  o When written, be precise
    Points: _____/10
  o When speaking, some stumbling and grammar mistakes are okay
    Points: _____/5
  o When speaking, not use unexplained abbreviations and acronyms
    Points: _____/5

Group Criteria: 20% of the Grade

A good group will:

• Have a decent “flow” to their presentation—even if there is no over-riding theme
  Points: _____/10

• Be rehearsed and prepared
  Points: _____/10

Comments: